

Attention: Door Prize Giveaway for Organizational Members and Business Partners Reception

The door prize giveaway will return again to the 2014 NAAE Convention during the Organizational Members and Business Partners reception. This activity has continued to promote the engagement of members that attend the reception. Every participant will have a punch card that will be marked at each booth they visit during the reception. The more marks the participant gets on their card, the more opportunities they will have to be entered in a drawing for door prizes. These prizes will be given away towards the end of the reception.

In order to make this event possible for the fourth year, we are requesting a donation from your organization or company. This also provides you with another great way to promote your product and information to our members and it also reminds them that you are supporting agricultural education. Any donation you would be willing to provide will be greatly appreciated.

If you would like to donate an item, please contact Alissa Smith, NAAE Associate Executive Director. We ask that all donated items arrive at the NAAE office by October 17, 2014.

Again, we truly appreciate your continued support of agricultural education and look forward to having your attendance at the 2014 NAAE Convention.
