National Teach Ag Campaign
Future Agriscience Teacher Symposium
Code of Conduct and Media Consent Form

These guidelines are in effect during your time at the Future Agriscience Teacher Symposium that will be held in conjunction with the Minorities in Agriculture, Natural Resources and Related Sciences (MANRRS) National Conference, April 1-4, in Minneapolis, MN.

As a Future Agriscience Teacher Symposium attendee you are representing the National Teach Ag Campaign, the National Association of Agricultural Educators, your respective post-secondary institution, and your state. Appropriate and professional dress and behavior are expected of you at all times.

I give the National Association of Agricultural Educators permission to take my photo and video for promotional materials, videos, feature stories or other media related publicity.

I understand if I violate the professional standards expected of me consequences may include, but are not limited to, immediate dismissal and all costs incurred related to this dismissal will be the responsibility of the Future Agriscience Teacher Symposium attendee. This document is required before participation is allowed.
